THE EVENING OF LIFE.

Old Age May Keep Much of the Brightness and Vigor of Youth Everyone is familiar with the shrunken ook of the aged, the wrinkled face, the thin legs, and bowed form, the changed tone of the voice, and the weak action of the bodily organs. Few old people are equal to the muscular effort of earlier years. The nerves shrink, hearing, sight, taste, and appetite lose their keenness. Is not sad? And yet there are thousands of old peo-e who manage to keep as bright as ever, been have the strength to keep them up-ere is a remarkable instance, which is Continuing, Dr. Cooper said: "One of the most deplorable symptoms of our times is the tendency to dispiritualize the Church, to conform her to worldly methods and policies, and thus rob her of her original power. This is only a part of a more general movement to record the supernatural as superstition. gard the supernatural as superstition, and reduce everything to naturalism. Thus the Church is directed from her work, and from the sacrifice of Jesus Christ, while substitutes of all kinds are tried prayer for the presence of the Holy Spirit at the coming association meeting.

REV. MR. HINKLEY PREACHES. On Sunday morning last, at their mission room, 71-2 west Marshall street, a small congregation of New Church people assembled for worship. The service, not unlike that of the Protestant Episcopal Church, was followed by a sermon, delivered extemporaneously by Rev. Mr. Hinkley, who is the superintendent of missions of the New Jerusalem Church in the Little Flock," from the text: "Fear not, little flock, for it is the Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom." The subject was very appropriate to the occasion, and was evidently chosen for the instruction and encouragement of the few devoted members of this mission. The words of the text, the speaker said, were spoken by the Lord Himself—this precious promise was made by Him. After de-scribing the character of the Lord's early who were, nevertheless, filed with ance-tion for their Divine Master, he showed the need of these disciples of such en-couragement and strengthening as the Lord gave them. They acknowledged Him to be the promised Messiah, but knew but ad-Street little of the nature of His Eingdom.

Mr. Hinkley appealed to his hearers national to come into the Kingdom, and in conclusion said that only those can become a part of the Lord's flock who follow Him in the regeneration.

Mr. Hinkley preached again in the evening, and announced two lectures, one on pseudo spiritualism, illustrated by the story of Saul and the Witch of Endor. and the other on the true connection between earth and Heaven, as shown by the vision of Jacob's ladder. These will be given on Wednesday and Friday evenings, respectively, at 8 o'clock, and will be free to all.

MISSION DRAWS TO A CLOSE. The mission at St. Mary's Catholic church, which has been going on for the benefit of the German members of that congregation, ended Sanday. Rev. Mr. Senton Preaches a Striking Sermon on This Theme. Rev. Joseph M. Seaton, of the First MR. A. B. CLARK CHOSEN PRESIDENT Unitarian church, delivered the first of a series of sermons on "The Being of God" Sunday evening. The speaker dealt with the question of how God first revealed himself to man, or how man first arrived at a knowledge of God. After discussing the various theories of the materialists, sensationalists, and in-tuitionalists as to the origin of the God

The conference year of the Methodist church in Virginia closed with the last sabsath, and the services of the day in the Richmond churches of this denomination were of special interest. There were special conference year of the order, several of the pastors took occasion to refer their year's work.

In truth, this thought of a man God, who could walk apon the surface of the earth and hold conversation with men, would do for the childhood of the race; but insults the in-REVELATION THROUGH THE SPIRIT

"The intuitional theory is a theory of revelation through the spirit, and not through bodily presence. If the theory of revelation through intuition be rejected as not wholly true, how much more must this grosser form of thought be rejected, which cannot by any philoare entirely void of the concept, and they are wholly without experience in the natural world. The mind is unable to form a concept of any kind completely, until it has the power of the association of ideas. If I say to my S-year-old hoy, T have seen an elephant, he will be no wiser than before, if he has never seen one, until I travel by means of those things he has seen to a description of that which he has not seen. So, to our first parents, wholly lacking the first principle of the concept of Delty, or the Infinite, and totally void of experience. principle of the concept of Delty, or the Infinite, and totally void of experience, there could have been no revelation of an idea that their minds were wholly incapable of receiving. To them the declaration, I am the Infinite, or, I am God, could have no more meaning than so much sound. So, then, against the theory of God's personal revelation of Himself, we have these two objections-first, that the Infinite would not or could not manifest Himself in such a gross, materialistic way; and, second, the psy-chological impossibility of primitive man receiving such a revelation. We might pause here to say a word on the value of the so-called revelation of God of Himself in the Old Testament. We know that this revelation is relied upon by some good people as the only sure proof of the existence of God. After a mo-ment's reflection, we think they will see that this is not true.

GOD AND THE BIBLE. "The Bible does not prove the existence of God. On the contrary, the Bible is only the record of what men have thought about God. Instead of man obtaining his God-consciousness from the Bible, the God-consciousness of man gave us the Bible. So that with the Bible or without the Bible, the thought of God must have grown with the growth of the hu-man race. Without the God-idea first, the Bible never could have come into existence. Clearly, then, the Bible did not furnish the human race with the idea—God, the Infinite. In treating this subject, then, we have come to something like the following conclusion: The con-Clearly, then, the Bible did not cept of a Supreme Being is the product of growth, and is not furnished ready-made and complete, either by intuition or personal revelation; neither is the concept entirely subjective, nor entirely sensational, but is the product of both. we plant the small seed in the earth. If planted too deeply it lies dormant for years. But if planted so that the rain and heat and the influence of light can play upon it, it becomes in time a mighty tree. So, this power of concept forming. tree. So, this power of concept forming, which is peculiar to the mind, this God-consciousness in primitive man was in the germ—in some races so small that we see as yet only a promise of that which is to come. In others, this consciousness, nurtured and stimulated by the thousand forces which have played upon it for centuries, is growing and rising into noble and lofty proportions. With this conception of the rise of the God-idea we put ourselves in line with the universal law, which seems to pervade the world, and open boundless opportunity for progress in the future. Out of the darkness of the past, slowly, by long and toilsome processes, man has of the darkness of the past, slowly, by long and tollsome processes, man has emerged into the morning of the present. It is our highest hope and our strongest inspiration that we stand only at the rising of the sun upon the day of truth in the thought of God. The most beautiful vision of all our dreams is the one in which, centuries hence, we seem to see this sun shining in midday splendor, and a knowledge of God covering the earth, 'as the waters cover the sea.'"

THE CHRISTIAN SCHOOLS. The bi-monthly meeting of the Christian Sunday School Association of Richmond and Manchester was held with the Third church Sunday afternoon. The house was filled, mostly with grown people. The president, Mr. W. J. Kimbrough, presided, Mr. W. H. Adams was secretary. The Serioture Jesson was read by tary. The Scripture lesson was read by Rev. L. M. Omer. and prayer was offered by Mr. Charles Magruder. Misses Nellie Clayton and Helen Roberts, from Cowardin-Avenue church, recited very ap-propriate pieces that were calculated to do much good, if the morals taught were put into every-day life.

The address of the occasion was de-livered by Mr. C. W. Throckmorton on "The Drones in the Church and Sunday-School." It was a gem of its kind, and the wholesome advice given in it is bound to do all that heard it much good. The music of the occasion was rendered by the Third church choir, which is al-

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, November 9.-Stocks were irregular, but, in the main, firm. The irregularity of prices was the result of realizations by professional operators, who bought at considerably lower prices, overdue. Early advices from London reported a lower range for American se-

Under this process Lake Shore rose to 153, Lackawanna to 1601-2, and Consolidated Gas to 1631-2. The activity and strength of these, as well as other stocks, resulted from the continued easy working of the money market, the further rise in wheat, and advices from various sections of the country in regard to the resumption of work by milis and manufactories, which hold out the hope of increased milway traffic during the

CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

CHICAGO, November 9.—The interest and import nee concerning the foreign situation in wheat was partly dimmed by the Northwestern and other domestic conditions to-day. Cash and December at Minnearous were jumping upward, and extraordinary premiums were being paid for cash lots to our own market-most motably for red wheat. Seven cents over the December quotations for No. 2 red ruled at one time. Much changing from December to May took place, and the high point of the year for the former—8) 1-8e.—was quotable for an instant. Before the close, however, realizing became popular, and a break of 15-8c from the outside resulted. The close was fairly steady, with a 11-2c, net gain for the day established. CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET. ay established.

December wheat opened at from 781-449.

7-8c, advanced to 801-8c, and closed at 5-8c, 1-2c, higher than Saturday. Cash heat, sample lots, was 2c, higher, closing stars.

wheat, sample lots, was 2c. higher, closing easier.

Corn—As it generally does, corn followed wheat in its rise. The trade in the market showed no symptoms of revival, and the advance in prices which took place was unaccompanied by anything particularly interesting. Commission-houses had a few orders to execute, but the bulk of the business was for floor traders and cappers. May sold between 28.3-8.27.48 and 29.2-6. closing at 25c.—18c. higher than Saturday. Cash corn was 1-4/21-2c. for choice.

The enhancement in the prices of other grains rendered a service in the same ilrection for oats. Business was fair, but the interest excited by wheat detracted from speculation in oats, as well as other commodities. May oats closed 1-8/21-4c. higher than Saturday. Cash oats were firm and 1-2c. higher.

Provisions—Product, although duil, was firm, with values slightly higher. The very strong speculative feeling in grain, and a better disposition in the hog market, both contributed to the firmness. January pork closed 567-1-2c. higher than Saturday, January land 21-26-3c, higher, and January ribs 21-2c. higher, the leading futures ranged as follows:
